

ASSASSINATION
OF LOYD GEORGE
FEARED IN ISLES

Scotland Yard Redoubles
Activities Following
Threats.

McSWINEY STILL ALIVE

Believe Death Signal For Attempted Violence
On Premier.

London, Sept. 1.—As Terence MacSwiney lord mayor of Cork, hovered on the borderland to death in Brixton jail today, Scotland Yard entered into intense activities to meet the menace of assassination which hangs over Premier Lloyd George and other members of the cabinet.

MacSwiney still lives, thanks to his wonderful vitality, but it was declared that his death may come at any minute. A bulletin issued at 11 o'clock bore the brief announcement: "Condition unchanged."

Officials of Scotland Yard are going thru the most anxious period in the history of England. It is understood that Premier Lloyd George takes seriously the threats against his life for his refusal to liberate Lord Mayor MacSwiney and is overlooking no precaution in his vacation retreat at Lucerne.

A special bodyguard has been sent to Switzerland to protect the premier. The uniformed police detectives and secret service agents are co-operating to protect the lives of members of the government and save government property from destruction.

Double guards have been thrown around the White Hall district where the government buildings are located. Members of the cabinet who are in the country on vacations have been warned to exercise caution. Detachments have been detailed to guard them upon their return to London.

Sinn Fein sympathizers suspected of violent intentions have been "ticked" and are constantly shadowed by the most expert detectives in London. Even the children of the members of the cabinet are being guarded against attempted kidnapping.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, who went to Lucerne to consult with the premier was flanked by secret government agents throughout the whole trip to protect his life.

A dispatch from Geneva says that Albert Courvaux, who was arrested for sending a death threat to Premier Lloyd George in a telegram, told the court he did not intend to kill the premier, but only to frighten him into releasing MacSwiney.

PETITIONS ASKING FOR REFERENDUM
NOT FORTH-COMING

Promised petitions asking for a referendum on the present form of government, which were supposed to be started in circulation Wednesday were not forthcoming.

John A. North, county commissioner elect and Xenia business man, who is supporting the referendum plan of changing the present administration and who is back of the petition movement said Wednesday that the petitions would probably be delayed a day or so.

The question of asking in the petition for a recall of the entire commission manager form of government and reversal to the federal form or to recall only the present administration heads, consisting of the five commissioners and the city manager, is what is holding up the petitions it is said.

It is alleged that while the initial action against the government plan and which crystallized into the movement for its ousting was in favor of restoration to the old plan of government, there are many now who, while favoring the referendum plan, believe that the commission manager form of government is all right and ask only for the recall of the present officials.

"We are not going to start circulate what kind of plan we want to take the place of the present government," said Mr. North Wednesday morning.

MAY BE BUILT

Cleveland, Sept. 1.—City officials here have under consideration a plan presented by Thomas F. Dunn, president of the U. S. Aerial Express company, for the building of a municipal seaplane dock.

Dunn says that the building of the dock will make this city the center of commercial service in the United States.

Three seaplanes are now in operation regularly between Cleveland and Detroit.

STRIKE OF MERCHANT
TAILORS IMPENDS IN CLEVELAND SHOPS

Open Shop Is Issue Of Controversy In Ohio
City.

Cleveland, Sept. 1.—Journeyman tailors and members of the merchant tailors association are in controversy here today and a strike impends. The open shop is the issue. With the expiration of the agreement providing for a closed shop last night, many employing tailors are refusing to accept the new terms offered by the journeymen.

The union is asking a 44 hour week, a wage of $1 an hour and continuation of the closed shop. Terms have been accepted by 24 firms employing 3,000 men, but two thirds of the employers have thus far refused them.

The old scale was 70 cents an hour with 48 hour week. An offer of 87 1/2 cents an hour with a 48 hour week has been rejected by the men.

In the Zamosc sector, where the Russians attempted a counter attack they were rolled back.

There is no change on the Galician front.

SHORTAGE AMOUNTING
TO $70,000 FOUND
IN SALES ACCOUNTS

Man Disappears As Evidence Of Fraud Uncovered.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Auditors today are still checking the accounts of Basil P. Edwards, a bond salesman formerly employed by the Chicago Trust Company, and a shortage of $70,000 has been uncovered. The shortage, accountants say, may reach $100,000.

Edwards has disappeared and, according to Miss Lucile Morley his fiancée has gone to South America. Police and detective agencies are prosecuting an international search.

Edwards had been employed by the Chicago Trust Company for ten years save for a period of two years when he served in the navy during the war and had earned the sobriquet of the "world's greatest bond salesman." He was discharged in May after the firm had had occasion to question his transactions.

In order to establish a record, it is declared Edwards sold bonds at less than cost, paying the loss out of his own pocket and in order to recuperate, giving his personal receipts for thousands of dollars, promising to deliver the bonds later. It was when customers began to present these receipts that his speculations were discovered.

DEMOCRATS FAIL TO THROW LIGHT
ON ALLEGED G. O. P. "SLUSH FUND"

Chairman White Unable To Confirm Cox Charges Of $15,000,000 Campaign Fund Of Republicans; Says Ohio Governor Has Information, But It Has Not Been Divulged To Him.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—Chairman George White, of the Democratic National Committee took the stand first when the senate "slush fund" sub-committee resumed its investigation today but failed throughout his testimony to give the investigators any information tending to confirm Governor Cox's charges of a $15,000,000 Republican campaign fund.

Chairman White was questioned by Senator Spencer and Senator Kenyon of each of the charges made by Gov. Cox but he told the committee that as far as he knew Governor Cox was the only man who had any evidence to support them.

Under questioning White said he met Governor Cox Sunday last and the governor gave him no evidence to submit to the committee.

Questioned further White related the following conversation with Gov. Cox:

"Are you sure of your ground, Gov. Cox?"

"The Governor said he was and I replied, 'that's enough for me.'"

Chairman White, in effect, admitted the publishing in New York of an interview by W. B. Jamieson, financial director of the Democratic national committee in which plans of a $10,000,000 Democratic campaign fund were discussed but stated he did not approve of the interview.

White then told the committee he estimated not more than $2,000,000 would be necessary for the Democratic campaign.

"Are you aware that $2,300,000 was spent in 1916?" asked Senator Spencer.

"I don't want to seem to reflect on former managements," White replied, "but I think $2,000,000 will be enough."

Pressed for a list of salaried officers of the Democratic committee, White answered it had only a "skeleton organization at present" and he could not give the information.

White was asked how many speakers the Democratic national committee contemplated.

"I was asked by Senator Harrison of the speakers bureau what his budget would be," White replied, "and I told him we would have to get together on that. I said I would take the responsibility of paying him $10,000."

Referring again to the Cox charges Senator Spencer asked:

"Do you know of any sinister influence, financial or industrial, trying to make a continuance of profiteering under a Republican administration?"

"Not except through Governor Cox's Pittsburgh speech," White said "and I have found Gov. Cox always able to prove his word," he added.

"Can you give us any indication as to where we can get that information?"

"Governor Cox."

"Except through Governor Cox you know nothing you can submit?"

"No, Governor Cox has got it all together."

SENATOR HARDING WILL GIVE ATTENTION TO LABOR QUESTION IN NEXT ADDRESS

Important Speech Scheduled For Monday Will Answer American Federation Of Labor's Indirect Attack On Record.

Marion, O., Sept. 1.—Having enunciated in the past week his position on two campaign factors, the League of Nations issue and the reclamation program, Senator Warren G. Harding will next turn his attention to the important subject of labor.

Steadily pursuing the policy of dealing with one matter at a time, Senator Harding will on Monday deliver a labor address to the "home folks" of Marion. The address will be a part of the local celebration of labor day at a park and on the same program will be a speaker for the Plumb plan league.

Senator Harding has not mentioned labor policies since his speech of acceptance, and his speech next Monday is regarded as one of the big ones of the Republican campaign.

The senator has declined to comment thus far on the action of the American Federation of Labor in endorsing Governor James M. Cox, and it is expected that in his labor speech he will answer the federation's indirect attack on his labor record.

Encouraging reports on the political situation in various states were brought to Senator Harding by the governors who participated in yesterday's celebration. Without exception, the Republican executives declared that their respective states will be found in the G. O. P. column in November.

Senator Harding planned a quiet day of rest today. No engagements were scheduled, except for unexpected callers he expected to devote a major part of the day to correspondence and the preparation of his next two important speeches on labor and agriculture.

AUTO STRIKES BUGGY
ON FEDERAL PIKE;
WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. William Davis
Destroyed.

As the result of a collision Tuesday evening between a Ford coupe driven by the 17 year old son of Joseph Pitstick, a farmer living on the Federal pike, and a buggy, in which were riding Mr. and Mrs. William Davis and their 12 year old daughter, Mrs. Davis will lose the sight of her left eye.

A sliver of glass from the broken windshield of the enclosed buggy penetrated Mrs. Davis' eye. The sight was destroyed, but at the Springfield hospital, where she was taken by Dr. M. I. Marsh of Oedarville, the hope was expressed that the eye ball might be saved.

Cuts and bruises were the only other injuries sustained by either the occupants of the buggy or coupe.

The accident was said to be due to the fact that the youthful driver of the automobile did not notice the buggy, which was carrying no lights. The lights on the machine were also dimmed, it is said. Front wheels of the machine, and the buggy locked, and both vehicles were overturned. The machine was slightly damaged, and the boy was unable to drive it, but he secured aid from a neighboring farm house and the injured woman was taken to the physician's office.

The accident occurred on the Turnbull road. The Davis family lives on the farm of Michael O'Connell between Jamestown and Cedarville.

TWO KILLED WHEN AIRPLANE CRASHES
TO GROUND IN EAST

Occupants Of Steel Plane
Meet Instant Death
Wednesday.

Morristown, N. J., Sept. 1.—An all metal mail airplane bound for Chicago crashed to the ground near here early today killing both of the occupants.

It was reported that the pilot was Max Miller. The plane left Hazelhurst field, Mineola, L. I. early today.

The gasoline tank exploded as the machine hit the ground and the bodies of the two occupants, buried beneath the plane, were burned beyond recognition. The machine fell to the ground on the estate of R. H. Thomas, former president of the New York Stock Exchange.

Farm hands working in a nearby field said the airplane appeared to become unmanageable as it was flying at a low altitude. The plane seemed about to crash into some trees but was guided away from them just before it fell.

BELFAST RIOTS
UNCHECKED FIVE MORE KILLED

Raging Conflagrations
Darken Skies Over
City.

7,000 ARE HOMELESS

Evictions Of Sinn Fein
Sympathizers Still Continue.

Belfast, Sept. 1.—Beneath skies darkened by the smoke of raging conflagrations, fighting continued in Belfast today. Five more deaths have occurred, bringing the fatality list to 26 since last Saturday evening. A civilian was shot to death by a military patrol for violation of the curfew order. Another civilian died of wounds received in street fighting Monday. A soldier of the Cameron Highlanders was accidentally killed.

A pitched battle broke out during the morning when Sinn Feiners attacked a train bearing shipworkers to the ship yards. Soldiers were rushed to the scene and fired a volley, quelling the fighting. After the fight between the Sinn Feiners and the shipbuilders two dead men were found upon the ground. It was said they were killed by the soldiers who fired upon the fighters.

Many more fires have broken out despite the heavy troop patrols and there was further looting.

It is estimated that 7,000 persons are homeless, Joseph Devlin, M. P., is fitting up Catholic clubs to be used as hotels for the refugees.

Evictions of the Sinn Fein sympathizers are continuing. In several instances vans were set on fire after they had been loaded with furniture for removal.

Business circles are becoming alarmed over the boycott of Belfast by South Ireland. Depositors from south Ireland are reported to be drawing large sums from Ulster province banks. The directors are worried over the outlook and fear that the diminution of bank accounts together with large claims for damage, caused by the recent fighting, will bring the community to the verge of bankruptcy.

The strife spread to Southfield where a unionist mob attacked the Sinn Feiners killing a man. The Sinn Feiners fought back and many persons were wounded by revolver shots and flying stones. A number of stores were wrecked.

TENNESSEE SOLONS
REJECT AMENDMENT
OF WOMAN SUFFRAGE

House Expunges From Journal Record Of Ratification

Washington, Sept. 1.—Proclamation of the suffrage amendment by the state department is not affected by the action of the Tennessee house in reconsidering its vote for ratification, it was officially stated at the state department today.

The state department will take no cognizance of the action in Tennessee yesterday. It is understood that this decision is based upon advice of the solicitor of the department.

Nashville, Sept. 1.—The Tennessee house of representatives by a viva voce vote adopted a motion to reconsider the action of the house on the suffrage ratification resolution, and then, by a vote of 47 to 24, with 20 members not voting, adopted a motion to nonconcur in the action of the senate. The action followed directly upon the assembling of the first quorum in the house since Aug. 20.

Governor Roberts, upon being notified of the house's action, declined to make any statement other than to say that the situation could only be dealt with in a legal manner and was in the hands of Attorney General Thompson. The latter, in a letter read on the house floor, expressed the opinion that reconsideration of the resolution was impossible since the house had adopted it and Governor Roberts had certified to Secretary of State Colby this action by both house and senate.

State officials and many members of the legislature expressed the belief that legality or illegality of Tennessee's ratification would be decided upon the record certified to Washington by Governor Roberts and not on the action taken by the house.

SOCIALISTS WANT

NATIONAL TENNIS TOURNAMENT GOES INTO THIRD ROUND

Forrest Hills, L. I., Sept. 1.—The tournament for the National Tennis singles championship went into the third round today at the West Side Tennis club, with all members of the Davis Cup team still undefeated.

On the quartet R. Norris Williams II, the former national champion, probably faces the hardest test in today's matches, for he is paired with W. E. Davis, the young Californian. Williams was pushed to the utmost yesterday to take measure of S. Howard Voshell. Davis probably will prove even harder for him.

William M. Johnston, the champion is paired with Nathaniel W. Niles the Boston veteran. Ordinarily this would be considered a most critical match, but his work in the tournament has so far been so excellent that he is regarded as practically certain to win.

Samuel Hardy, captain of the Davis Cup team, will meet William T. Tilden II, who recently won the British championship. Charles S. Garland of Pittsburgh, is paired with Frank T. Anderson, the young New Yorker.

In case Williams and Johnston both win their matches today and they will meet tomorrow in the fourth round. If Williams is good enough today to eliminate Davis it is believed he will prove a very tough obstacle for Johnston.

FITZSIMMONS BACKS OUT OF RING FIGHT

New York, Sept. 1.—Eddie Fitzsimmons, New York lightweight, today changed his mind regarding his possibilities of winning the world's championship and asked Tex Rickard, promoter, to relieve him of his engagement to fight Benny Leonard at Madison Square Garden this month. Fitzsimmons' manager pleaded that the young scrapper needs more experience before entering the ring with a man of Leonard's caliber.

Rickard declared today that both Leonard and Fitzsimmons have expressed a dislike for the match. He probably will agree to release Fitzsimmons and select some other fighter as Leonard's opponent.

You can hear it in our store

—the phonograph that is featured in Vaudeville's strangest act

Perhaps you've seen it—Signor Friscoe's "Magic" Xylophone Act.

It's the hit of vaudeville's "Big-Time."

Signor Friscoe's "magic" is an Official Laboratory Model of the New Edison. We have one exactly like it.

Signor Friscoe's instrument is an exact duplicate of the original Official Laboratory Model, which cost Mr. Edison three million dollars to perfect. Our instrument is also an exact duplicate of this famous three million dollar original. We guarantee it to be able to give the same marvelous RE-CREATIONS of music, which Signor Friscoe's Official Laboratory Model gives in vaudeville.

Come in and test the astonishing realism of this instrument for yourself—in Mr. Edison's Realism Test.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

You've read how the New Edison has proved its perfect realism. Four thousand tests have been given, in which more than 50 different artists compared their art with its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Leading newspapers conceded that there was no difference between the two.

Has any one suggested to you that these comparison tests are "faked"—that the artist imitates the New Edison?

Signor Friscoe's performance makes such an assertion positively ridiculous. Every week, 20,000 people see his hammers ripple over the xylophone keys. Suddenly he holds them aloft—still.

The rippling music continues.

Slowly, the gorgeous curtains of the back-drop part. The audience gasps. The New Edison stands revealed. It has taken up Signor Friscoe's performance, and is now RE-CREATING it alone. The effect of this extraordinary magic can rest upon only one fact: No one can distinguish any difference between Signor Friscoe's performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison. Signor Friscoe could not possibly imitate the New Edison, because the xylophone can not be made to imitate any other instrument, so as to deceive its hearers.

Signor Friscoe's act is not an Edison enterprise. He has simply been clever enough to use the New Edison for what it is worth. Why don't you?

PRICES

The price of the New Edison has increased less than 15% since 1914. This includes the War Tax.

Mr. Edison has staved off price advances by personally absorbing more than half of the increased cost of manufacture.

Because of the exceptionally high quality of materials and workmanship demanded by the Edison Laboratories, and the continued scarcity of both, it may be necessary to advance prices. But rest assured that this will not occur, unless Mr. Edison is forced to it.

Our Budget Plan—the thrift way of spending—will help you buy now. Let us tell you about it.

REMINDED OF BIRTH ANNIVERSARY.

The seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Mrs. Harriet Swabb, was the occasion of a gathering of her children and other relatives Tuesday evening at the home of her daughter Mrs. Charles Bales on West Third street, where she lives.

The event was arranged to surprise Mrs. Swabb, and the occasion was made more enjoyable by the arrival of her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Miller and four children from Connorsville, Ind., who came for the affair. A feature of the evening was a large birthday cake, with the figures 75, iced on the top in pink, and surrounded by candles. Ice cream and cake were served.

Enjoying the evening with Mrs. Swabb were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bales, Mr. and Mrs. James Scamman, Mrs. R. H. Miller and children of Connorsville, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chambliss and family; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swabb and little daughter of Dayton; Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Deacon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haas, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Lightner, Mr. and Mrs. Clavin Lovless and little son, and the Misses Maud and Edith Miller.

UNUSUAL RECORD HELD BY XENIAN IN WAR SERVICE

Six battle clasps, will grace the Victory Medal received by William Finley of this city who made application for his medal with Captain N. Hoff, of the recruiting service at Cincinnati and Miss A. M. Lawler army field clerk, who are receiving applications in the billiard room of the Chamber of Commerce the rest of the week.

Mr. Finley enlisted in the 147th Aero Squadron at Fort Thomas, Ky., October 19, 1917. He left this country for France, March 16, 1918 and arrived home March 19, 1919. In the meantime he served in five major offensives and one defensive sector which entitles him to wear six bars on the ribbon of the government medal.

The Xenian soldier served in the Toul Sector from May 31 to June 28, 1918, for which he received a defensive sector clasp; in the Champagne-Marne sector July 15 to July 18, 1918; in the Aisne-Marne sector July 18 to August 6, 1918; in the Oise-Aisne sector from August 18 to August 30; in St. Mihiel from September 12 to September 16; in Verdun from September 20 to October 10 and in the Meuse-Argonne from October 15 to November 11.

The record of receiving six battle clasps is most unusual and will probably be unequalled in this city. Captain N. Hoff, who has charge of the work here, is urging discharge papers and make application for their Victory medals at once as the officers will only be here until the end of the week.

In cases of soldiers who died either during the war or after the war the next of kin is instructed to bring in the discharge papers or the notification of death and other data and make application for the medal. The discharges are not sent away but are merely used in filling out an application form which is mailed to headquarters from where the medals are forwarded within a week by mail.

It is not necessary for the soldiers to appear in person for their medals as they can send in their discharge paper with a relative or friend and have the application made.

BOWERSVILLE NINE GOES DOWN DEFEATED AT HANDS OF CLIFTON

With one game already stacked away sometime, the Bowersville base ball team that had been making rapid strides this season was defeated by Clifton at that place Saturday, the score being 14-2.

The series between the two teams now stands even, Bowersville having won a previous game. Wet grounds prevented much real baseball and hindered the Bowersville club seriously. Another game between these teams will be staged again soon.

With Morri of Washington C. H. and H. Adams of Sabina in the box and D. Adams of Washington C. H. behind the bat, the Bowersville team defeated Bowersville 5-4 before a large crowd at Bowersville on August 26.

WILL REORGANIZE ATHLETIC CLUB

First action toward the reorganization of the Maroon Athletic club, and the formation of an independent football team this year, will be taken at a meeting of all interested at the Hustler Billiard Hall at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The meeting is being called by veterans of last year's club and everyone wishing a try-out with the moleskin squad this year or anyone interested in the prospects of the club are invited to attend the organization meeting.

With much new talent in the city and practically all of the veteran talent that made last year's outfit a good club, available, the prospects for the coming season are unusually roseate.

TEACH IN TERMS OF WORLD'S WORK URGES SPEAKER

"A 1, success in business is based on a knowledge of what the people need," said J. F. Marsh, in the opening address of the second day's session of the Greene County Teachers' Institute being held this week at the McKinley school auditorium.

Mr. Marsh was the first speaker on the morning program. "Our teaching," he continued, "has not always recognized the needs of the masses. Only eight percent of the people in the United States go through high school, only two percent through college. The great mass is in the grades—hence the great responsibility there."

"Teach in terms of the work of the world," instructed the speaker. "Remember that only four four percent of the people in the world are in the professions. Do not teach as if all the pupils were destined for that goal. Our schools in the past have done this, and this is one cause of the unrest in our country so many people have not been able to find their proper vocation. We must help pupils to find themselves."

Following a short recess, J. Adams Puffer, field secretary of the National Child Welfare Association of New York spoke to the teachers on "Vocational Education." In the beginning the speaker explained the meaning of culture, by naming six requisites of the cultured person and showing the various grades or phases through which culture is attained. The lowest step is the struggle for existence. Some never rise above this grade, he said. These steps in order next are economic, or the desire to save money, social life, education, political life, aesthetic sensibility, moral life, religious life. "The world's work is drudgery," said Mr. Puffer. "There are only half a dozen cultural occupations in the world. The attitude toward work is the worst problem of our country. To help pupils find their own vocation, teach them to read lives of great people to talk with counselors to study their own family talents." Mr. Puffer gave some very interesting incidents showing the power of heredity in vocational tendencies.

J. F. Marsh was again the opening speaker of the afternoon on the subject, "Some Guide Posts in Teaching Geography." The address was of special interest and benefit to grade teachers. It was pointed out by the speaker that the study of geography should assist in thinking in world terms and the ability to do this makes a wise man.

"Vocational Guidance for Girls" was the afternoon subject of Mr. Puffer, who said in part: "All but six percent of the women of the world are home makers. There are three kinds of homes in our country. The most common home is where the wife is a slave. The second kind is where the woman dominates the man. In the third, both are equal, there is co-ordinate, sympathetic action."

Each of the leading occupations of women was discussed by the speaker with reference to its effect on the life of the woman. Mr. Puffer said it has been determined by careful observation that one girl out of every five loses her beauty and buoyancy in the first five years of teaching. The speaker discussed the snobbery of American life, particularly among girls and women. That woman's best vocational period is from 45 to 70 years of age, was one of his most striking statements.

Following the address the annual election of officers was held. Supt. C. A. Waltz being elected president and Miss Catherine Shigley of Jamestown, secretary. The session opened Tuesday morning with singing by the members and devotional exercises by Rev. V. F. Brown, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church. In opening letter from State Librarian J. H. Newman, urging teachers to a more general use of the privilege of the library was read. In the afternoon punch and wafers were served at the recess and the new teachers introduced by Supt. Aultman. The affair was arranged by the entertainment committee headed by Miss Helen Oglesbee.

CHAMPIONSHIP STILL UNDECIDED AT QUOT CLUB; PICNIC HELD

Elimination contests in the Xenia Quoit Club were still unable to decide the club champion Monday night due to the absence of Sayre and Engel, who are rated as real contenders, but who were unable to be present.

Monday night O. C. Custer won from Downes. Wm. Smith from Judge J. C. Marshall, Oglesbee from Watkins, and Oglesbee from William Smith. In the last game between Oglesbee and Wm. Smith the score stood 10-10 with only one point needed to win, when after Smith had pitched two close quots, Oglesbee threw a ringer.

The Xenia Club team will play Tippecanoe City at that place Friday night. Tuesday night, the local club played Centerville on the local grounds, the players being men who had never participated in a club contest before. The Centerville team winning 8 out of 12 games played. The local players were L. T. Marshall, William Priest, Stephen Powers, M. Sutton, John Davidson, Thornhill, T. D. Kyle and L. A. Taylor.

Members of the Xenia Quoit Club, their wives and families will picnic at the quito grounds Monday evening at five o'clock. Quoits, croquet and clock golf will provide entertainment.

Is Your Skin Ablaze With Fiery Itchings?

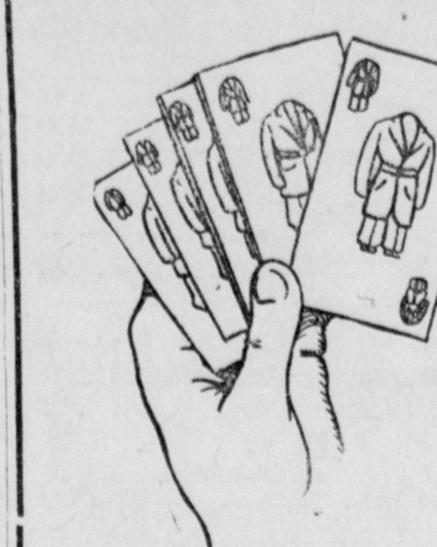

Don't Continue to Suffer Because of Wrong Treatment.

Impurities in the blood cause millions of tiny disease germs to set up their attack on the surface of the skin, and in the form of pimples, boils, scaly eruptions and itchy, burning irritations, begin their disgusting and destructive work.

These disease germs can be reached only through the blood, and local applications have no effect whatever. That is why salves, ointments, lotions, washes and other remedies applied to the skin can do no more than give mere temporary relief.

If you want genuine relief from the tortures of skin diseases, loss of time in discarding all local remedies, and begin taking S.S.S. For full information about your own case, write Medical Director, Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

THE MODUS OPERANDI OF ELECTING A PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The president and vice president are not chosen by direct vote of the people but by "electors." Each state is entitled to as many electors as it has senators and representatives in congress. The representation in congress is based on the population of the states and fixed by an apportionment act passed after each census; the old apportionment, based on the census of 1910, is still in force so that the number of electors is the same this year as in 1916, namely 531, and 266 to elect.

The constitution authorizes the state legislatures to say how the electors shall be chosen; up to 1824 they were chosen in various ways but the universal practice now is for the voters to vote for them. Congress fixes the date of the election, which must be on the same day in all the states. This is "the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November," which is November 2 this year.

Each of the opposing parties puts up its list of electors in each state; these electors must not include any federal officeholders. The voter casts his ballot for the set of electors representing the party or ticket he wants to support. All the electors in all the states, numbering 531, constitute the "electoral college."

On the second Monday in January following the election, the electors meet in their respective states and cast their ballots for president and vice president. Three certified copies of the result are made; one is sent by personal messenger to the president of the senate at Washington; the second goes by registered mail to the same place, and the third is filed for record with the federal court in the district where the electors meet.

On the second Monday in February the votes from all the states are publicly opened by the president of the senate and counted by congress in joint session. The persons who are found to have the highest number of electoral votes are then declared to be president and vice president, provided they have a majority of all the votes. The constitution provides that if no person has a majority, the senate shall retire and the house of representatives shall "immediately" proceed to choose a president, from among the three highest candidates on the list.

No person is eligible to the presidency or vice presidency who is not "a natural born citizen," at least 35 years old and "14 years a resident within the United States."

WOMEN AS JURORS.

In the excitement, jocular and otherwise, which has attended the granting of the franchise to women another important part which they will play in the assumption of their new civic duties has been generally overlooked. This is the work they will be called upon to perform as jurors.

Already there have been several cases chronicled in the day's news where women have served as jurors with much credit to the speed and justice of the verdicts rendered. By reason of the interest in the universal granting of the franchise, these cases have an especial timely interest.

Jury duty is generally regarded as one of the banes of male citizenship. It should not be so, for the jury system is one of the foundations of our form of government; but the fact remains that almost every man who can avoid jury duty does so. Perhaps the newly enfranchised women voters will set a good and sorely needed example to the male in this respect.

There are many cases which come before the jurisdiction of almost every court, with the possible exception of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, in which the services of women as jurors will be invaluable. Their keenness of perception will dispel many a lawyer-made cloud of doubt over vital points in cases in which a male jury would simply flounder in helplessness. At the same time, their sympathies are keener than those of men, and they will probably show a disconcerting ability in the weighing of evidence and witnesses. Their presence in a determining number on the first juries will be watched with great interest.

SONG AND SUCCOTASH.

When I'm not toiling at my lyre, producing thrilling waves of sound, I'm busy as a house afire, in my small plot of garden ground. When I've turned out an anthem sweet, designed to soothe men's troubled souls, I spade the dirt around a beet, and teach my beans to grow on poles. A hard may chant an ode or two, may write, perchance, some soaring screeds, but to his duty he's untrue if he neglects to pull the weeds. For what this country needs just now, when everything kerflummoxed stands, is not the product of the brow—it is the product of the hands. Too many bask on beds of ease, and write or sing or paint or play, when they should hoe the stringless peas and pluck the fragrant bale of hay. If I were young I'd soak my lyre, and quit this idle draft of song, and in the furrow I'd persevere, or whack up elm the whole day long. But I am old and full of lead, and when I've worked an hour or three, the neighbors lead me from the yard and fan me with a cedar tree. And so I toot the poet's horn, but when I've earned a sawbuck green, I strive to grow an ear of corn, a carrot or a lima bean.

CLUB WOMEN ARE OBSERVING SPECIAL DAY AT THE FAIR

Columbus, Sept. 1.—Club women from all parts of Ohio today are observing "federation day" at the state fair.

State Auditor Donahy, Democrat, candidate for governor, is scheduled to make an address to fair visitors this afternoon.

The Ohio State grange will hold sessions on the fair grounds today and tomorrow.

Today, officials believe will follow the example set Monday and Tuesday when the attendance broke all records. Secretary of Agriculture Shaw stated that yesterday's attendance totaled at least 45,000 persons. This is 10,000 greater than the attendance on Tuesday last year.

CIVILIAN IS SHOT TO DEATH; CURFEW LAW UNOBSERVED

Belfast, Sept. 1.—A civilian was shot to death by a military patrol early today for violating the curfew law. This brought the death list in the Belfast disorders up to 22 since last Saturday evening. Soldiers are patrolling the streets and all persons have been warned to remain indoors during certain hours of the night. Scores of persons, both men and women who were wounded are still under treatment in various hospitals.

TWO VOLUMES OF NEW SPAPER PUBLISHED AT CHILLICOTHE OVER HUNDRED YEARS AGO GIVEN TO COUNTY LIBRARY BY J. P. CHEW

Back, beyond the span of the years of the oldest men now living, and concerning an age rich in historical events, two volumes of old newspapers giving many of the happenings of more than a century ago, have come into the possession of Mr. J. P. Chew of Xenia. The volumes are made up of copies of the Chillicothe Weekly Recorder, published during the years 1814, 1815 and 1816, or considerably more than 100 years ago.

While the papers are yellow with age, they are still in a good state of preservation and can easily be read. On the title pages of each of these volumes, appears this legend: "The Weekly Recorder, a newspaper conveying important intelligence and other useful matter, under the general heads of the theology, literature and national affairs. Chillicothe, (Ohio): Printed and published by John Andrews in the years 1814, 1815."

The place of publication is given as "at his new printing office, now kept in the house which was lately occupied by J. Gillfillan on the South side of Water street, adjoining the corner house, which bounds on Paint street, west of the Market house." The price to subscribers, exclusive of postage, is Two dollars per annum, paid in advance or two dollars and fifty cents at the expiration of the year. No subscriber, it reads, will be discontinued "without the payment of arrears."

The papers have the appearance of having been printed on the old fashioned hand press, using the rude appliances for inking the forms that were in vogue in the early part of the last century, even in large printing establishments. The impression marks made by the press, operated as it was likely by the strong arm of the printer man, long since laid away in the grave and returned to dust, are still plain to be seen on the reverse side of the paper.

That there were a good many important problems bothering the grav matter of mere man at that time, is evidenced by this paragraph from the "Introduction" to the first volume of the Recorder: "The objects contemplated through the blessing of Heaven, in the publication of the Weekly Recorder, are various, benevolent and important. To convey every kind of useful intelligence; to diffuse evangelical and moral truth; to check the progress of vice and error; to promote vital piety, civil order and social happiness; to encourage useful literature, arts and sciences; to excite a desire of knowledge and mental improvement; to meliorate the state of schools and academies; and to call the attention of our fellow-citizens, as occasion may offer, to the omnipotent hand of the Most High directing national concerns."

Of the age in which the papers were published, the introduction says: "The present is a most eventful, a most interesting period of the world. It is fraught with events of the utmost consequences to the Church of Christ. On the one hand, it is remarkable for wars and commotions, wasting and destruction, direful human slaughter and garments rolled in blood," a description that would appear to fit very well conditions prevailing in Europe during the past six years.

There are a number of articles in the papers concerning Napoleon, who had just recently passed the zenith of his power in the affairs of the nations of Europe. One of these articles is an "interesting letter from a gentleman who resided 13 months in the island of Elba, the present residence of Bonaparte." Elba is a mountainous island on the coast of Italy. It was brought into wide notice by its having been chosen a haven of repose when the Emperor and military genius was obliged to retire from the stormy ocean of empire. The writer remarks "To a mind fond of retirement, or solely bent on the pursuits of literature, Elba may become a pleasant residence. But to a mind accustomed to the noise of war, or to the sweet blandishments of polished society, Elba, with all its view, and all its charm must appear but a more extended prison."

Many other articles relating to Napoleon and troublesome affairs of France of that period, are given in the two volumes. A particularly interesting article is that containing an account of the battle of Waterloo, in which the French under Napoleon were decisively defeated and put to flight. The great English general, Wellington, is the author of the statement, which appears to have been a dispatch from the field of battle to the English war department. Realizing after an indecisive battle of many hours, that his opportunity had come with the signs of weakness on the part of the French, Wellington ordered his army to the grand attack. He says in his dispatch: "The enemy was forced from his position on the heights and fled in the utmost confusion, leaving behind him, as far as I could judge, 150 pieces of cannon, which fell in our hands. I continued the pursuit until long after dark and then discontinued it only on account of the fatigue of our troops who had been engaged during 12 hours and because I found myself on the same road with Marshal Blucher, who assured me of his intention to follow the enemy throughout the night; he had taken 60 pieces of cannon belonging to the Imperial Guard, and several carriages, baggage, etc., belonging to Bonaparte."

Another dispatch contains the news of abdication of Napoleon, after which a dispatch was sent to the allies asking cessation of hostilities till a government could be formed. It was reported at this time that Bonaparte kept warships in readiness for flight from France and that he intended to seek safety in the United States, but was later conveyed to the island of St. Helena, in the South Atlantic ocean, off the coast of Africa, where he died a few years after landing there.

The papers also contain several articles relating to the second war in which the U. S. was engaged with Great Britain. The sacking and burning of Washington is mentioned, there are a number of accounts of naval engagements, and a description is given of the battle of 1814 at New Orleans, in which General Jackson so completely whipped the British, with only a small loss to his own army. Then came the news of peace (after the battle was fought). The English general, Packenham, was killed, and the British loss was about 2,500 in killed, wounded and prisoners.

This was before the days of the telegraph and the steamships, and the news of the signing of the peace treaty in Europe was brought to America by a sailing vessel, requiring weeks of time. A dispatch from Washington City, dated August 30, 1814, says: "The fate of war has befallen Washington. It was taken by the enemy the 24th inst., and evacuated by them in the course of Thursday night, after destroying the combustible part of the capital of the President's house and the public offices. The navy yard was burned by order of our officers, on hearing the enemy was in possession of the city. * * * Troops to arrive in the city, which is now literally peopled by armed freemen who have with patriotic ardour flown to its assistance. * * * The loss of the enemy in his incursion to the Metropolis, before he regained his ships, probably exceeded a thousand men. He had at least 200 killed in the battle and by the explosion, and 300 or 400 wounded. Many died of fatigue, numbers were taken prisoners by the cavalry hanging on his flanks, and not a few have deserted."

warfare in the country north of the Ohio river, of the surrender of Hull's army at Detroit, and many other events of the second war with the British. A dispatch, giving news of a naval victory on Lake Ontario, is headed: "Chauncey Triumphant on Lake Ontario. By the Steamboat Fulton. Albany Register office, August 15, 1814."

Only a small amount of local news was published and it is handled in a manner that would be called at least "peculiar" at the present time.

A significant item, probably concerning soldiers of the war of 1812 is "Arrived here (Chillicothe) two days ago, from Lexington, Ky., a company of regular troops, generally strong, healthy young men, under the command of Captain Adair."

Local events of great importance, as viewed at the present time, were dismissed with only a few lines mention. Witness: "By a general court martial, held in this town, 27 soldiers of the United States army were tried and convicted of desertion and other misdemeanors. Five of them were sentenced to be shot and the rest to various punishments, according to the apparent aggravations of their offenses. Those who had received the sentence of death were executed last Friday evening in the presence of the soldiery, etc., of a considerable assemblage of people who had been disposed to attend as witnesses of the tragical spectacle!"

The editor could not suppress his editorial comment in connection with the news items. He says: "About eight days ago, David Ogden, a profane and intemperate man, came into town, and, having by some means procured ardent spirits, drunk to intoxication, and uttered horrible imprecations in the streets. At length he satirized homeward, and in less than an hour information came that in attempting to cross Paint creek (a large creek a small distance south of town) he had fallen from his horse, and was drowned. Such was the end of this unhappy man. Of him it may be said as David said of Absalom; he died as a fool dieth. And we record his death as a solemn warning to others of a similar character."

A boy having been drowned in the river on Sunday, while swimming, the editor gives a solemn warning against the practice, and says: "Let us fly from the wrath to come and lay hold of the hope set before us in the Gospel."

No publication is made of Xenia or Greene county affairs, but among the names of the "gentlemen requested to take subscriptions" is that of Mr. James Galloway of Xenia. James Galloway was one of the early pioneers of Greene county.

It is the intention of Mr. Chew to present the volumes to the Greene County Library, for use there in the years to come, as works of reference.

MAJOR LEAGUES ENTER LAST MONTH OF 1920 CAMPAIGN

New York, Sept. 1.—Baseball in the major leagues today entered the last month of the 1920 campaign. Seasons in each league end on October 3, but approximately 30 days of play are left.

No gap has been opened for any bidding leader in either organization. In the American league exactly ten points separate the first three teams, Chicago, Cleveland and New York in the order named. In the National league Brooklyn tops the Cincinnati average by two points the Dodgers having slipped ahead yesterday while the Reds were losing. The Giants lost some ground through another loss to Pittsburgh which suddenly is beginning to make things appear that it not yet is out of the battle.

Cleveland's work at Washington gives every indication that those who counted the Indians out have another guess to make. He Cleveland with Speaker back in good form have been playing better ball than either the Yankees or White Sox in the last few days and are gradually making up lost ground.

Asserts New Discovery Brings Blessed Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

Can Make it Yourself at Home at Trifling Expense

In spite of all the doubters and scoffers, a man in Kentucky, who changed his annoying and distressing Hay Fever into less than a mild cold, claims most emphatically that if taken in time Hay Fever or Rose Fever can be conquered or at least made so harmless that it is not even bothersome.

He gave his discovery to scores of other sufferers with the most remarkable results and has recently been prevailed upon to dispense it through the Pharmacists to all Hay and Rose Fever sufferers who still have faith that nature has provided an effective remedy for this common, yet miserable disease.

And best of all this remedy costs almost nothing. Get a three-quarter ounce bottle of Mentholized Arcine at any drug store, pour the contents into a pint bottle and fill the pint bottle with water that has been boiled. Then gargle as directed and twice daily sniff or spray each nostril thoroughly.

That's all there is to it; so simple that a lot of people will say that it can't do the work, but oftentimes simple, natural remedies are the best; as you will find after using.

If you will make up a pint and use it for a week or ten days, you need not be surprised if your unwelcome yearly visitor fails to appear.

Mentholized Arcine is new in this market. It is possible that your druggist has not supplied himself, but he can get it for you from his jobber, who has a large supply.

TWENTY FIVE CARLOADS OF PAPER USED TO SUPPLY BALLOTS TO WOMEN VOTERS

Washington, Sept. 1.—Without counting the cost of registration the American Forestry Association announced today that with 27,000,000 women voters approximately twenty-five carloads of paper will be used to enable them to mark ballots in the voting booth.

In other figures about 13,400 reams of about 804,000 pounds of paper will be pencilled by the women either with a cross at the top or by scratching the ticket. Careful estimates of the association show the paper will cost $60,000 and that the prizes run on the ballots will figure $20,000. The total cost, including cutting and wrapping at $5,000 will be $100,000. The composition and the plate for such a big run were it all done in one shop make up the rest of the association's estimate.

If half the number of lead pencils have to be put in to meet the extra Election Day business, that means 13,500,000 pencils at a cost of not to exceed five cents per pencil and pencils have gone up like everything else. There the association figures is a little bill of $675,000 for the elections boards to O. K.

This figure does not take into consideration the fact that tons of paper will be used in registering the women in order that they may vote. The association has only made estimates on the Presidential election and the average size of the ballot in such a case is 16 by 22 inches. The association says registration, which is done in books, will probably use up as much more paper. Here are the questions the women have to answer under oath:

Residence and whether more than one family lives in the same house.
Party affiliation if they wish to vote in the primary.
Their age.
Their nativity—place of birth.
Their color.
The time they have lived in their precinct. Legislative districts and State.
If they have been naturalized or were born in this country.
The date of their naturalization and the court where it took place.

After each name is a blank space for remarks to be made by the judges whenever they see fit to do so. "This one little detail of the women voting is a welcome one," says Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry Association "for the women of the country can now be actively enlisted in a way they can make that enlistment felt for a national forest policy. Paper is made from pulp wood and the newspaper publishers know all about the mounting cost of that but none of us are against the women voting because they are going to use up twenty-five carloads of paper to exercise the franchise."

"The women of the country are the great tree planters. The women members of the American Forestry Association are the great workers for conservation of our natural resources and now that they can vote we will hear much more in a positive way for a national forest policy."

"Extra use of paper for voting is nothing when compared to some of the uses to which the products of our forests are going at a rapid rate. Thousands of men are at work and millions of dollars are invested to put 700,000,000,000 matches on the market every year. I do not believe that quite of all of them go to lighting stoves for heating the husband's coffee every morning. I believe a goodly share goes toward lighting his evening pipe. One match concern alone uses two hundred thousand feet of yellow pine logs and sugar pine every day in this great match industry. So you see the extra burden to our forests because of the women voting will not be a great load. The big thing is that now the women can vote we are just so much nearer a national movement that will conserve our forests which are being depleted or destroyed by fire nearly three times faster than we are replenishing them."

Annually use these tablets of organic iron—Nuxated Iron—to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner says: "There are thousands whose bodies are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect health which carries defiance to disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. By allowing it to remain thin, pale and watery, they are not giving the natural life force of the body a chance to do their work. Iron is red blood food and in my experience I have found no better means for building the red blood corpuscles and helping to give increased power to the blood than organic iron—Nuxated Iron." Nuxated Iron comes in tablet form only and does not contain any ordinary metallic iron but only the finest quality of iron—digested organic iron which is easily assimilated by the blood.

On October 7, 1919, General Keifer wrote: "I do not object to further investigation and will be glad to promote your enterprise."

On November 22, 1919, the General again wrote: "I am very strangely impressed with the merits of this Alfalfa production, and I think the matter of an organization of a company and general sale of the medicine will be a success. Come over and we will have a talk and I will do what I can to aid you."

On December 10, 1919, the General again wrote: "I am still interested in the Alfalfa medicine and think you have every reason to believe that your medicine will become popular and in universal use and of great benefit to mankind. Please advise me of the organization."

The Sterrett Alfalfa Medicine Company was incorporated and the stockholders met on January 5, 1920, electing a Board of Directors with J. Warren Keifer, President, and Walter E. Bowyer, President of the Troy National Bank, as one of the principal stockholders.

JAMESTOWN WOMAN TO REPRESENT 7TH DISTRICT OF STATE

Miss Bessie L. Robinson of Jamestown will represent the seventh congressional district on the new Democratic women's central committee.

The new central committee composed entirely of women met in Columbus Wednesday for organization. Governor Cox, presidential nominee, A. V. Donahy, nominee for governor, and W. A. Julian, nominee for senator, were scheduled to speak at the meeting.

The women's central committee is made up of one woman from each of the 22 congressional districts, making 22 members. Only 17 of these members have been named so far however, and Miss Robinson, an active Democratic worker, was named among the first to represent the seventh district on the committee.

Is It Yours

JAMES GORDON BENNETT, JR.

September 1, 1795
James Gordon Bennett Senior, has a life story that should be interesting to anyone who is discouraged by failure. For Bennett failed again and again but he always persevered and he was a rich man and famous one when he died.

He was born in Keith, Scotland and educated to be a priest. He had no liking for such a career so at the age of 20 he came to America to make a fortune. He made a living teaching in Halifax, wandered to Boston and found a job proofreading and came to New York ambitious to be a newspaper reporter. He had no money to start with and he had no money when he started. As Washington correspondent for a New York newspaper, he created a tremendous sensation because of his brilliant written articles.

He never lost his ambition to own and run a paper and he made several attempts, all of them failures. Finally with $500 and a 15 years record of disaster he started the New York Herald in a Wall Street basement. His whole office furniture was a packing box, and when he had written his paper he had it printed, he went out on the streets and sold it.

Then a fire broke out in the basement and even his printers deserted him. But he persevered and eventually his paper paid him a tremendous income. He originated many ideas which seem commonplace in journalism now—sensationalism, paid European correspondents, accurate financial articles. He would pay any price for an exclusive news item. He had one son, James Gordon Bennett, Jr.

You know "it's toasted." But do you know why?

LUCKY STRIKE is the toasted cigarette. Lucky Strike is the toasted pipe tobacco. And because Lucky Strike is toasted it preserves the Burley flavor for you until you smoke it.

The exact reason for this is interesting. You see, when Lucky Strike is toasted the heat closes the pores in the Burley leaves, and literally seals in the Burley flavor. It stays there for months—years—until it is released by burping in your pipe or cigarette.

Or take the method of the bee. You can put a honey-comb away for months or years and the flavor is always there—inside. This is because the bees put a thin coating of wax over the honey and seal it in, so it lasts forever.

The same with Lucky Strike. Toasting the tobacco seals in the delicious Burley flavor, to be "called for when wanted."

Whether you are a cigarette smoker or a pipe smoker you should get acquainted with the special and unequalled flavor of toasted Burley tobacco—to be found only in the Lucky Strike brand. Buy a package and you will notice this improved taste immediately.

The Economy of Using Goodyear Small Car Tires

So-called bargain tires, made up for sensational sales and offered at ridiculously low prices, do not attract careful buyers.

They are far more concerned with what they get than with what they pay because they know that in the end it is performance and not price that delivers actual tire economy.

The popularity of Goodyear Tires, of the 30x3, 30x3 1/2 and 31x4-inch sizes, is based on the fact that they deliver exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires and Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes.

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Double-Cure Fabric, All-Weather Tread $23.50

30 x 3 1/2 Goodyear Single-Cure Fabric, Anti-Skid Tread $21.50

Goodyear Heavy Tourist Tubes cost no more than the price you are asked to pay for tubes of less merit—why risk costly casings when such sure protection is available? 30 x 3 1/2 size $4.50 in waterproof bag

Players for the locals were: Barnard, Weiler, Mills, Wright and Sidenstricker. There will be a game on the home grounds next Sunday and one on Labor Day.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.
Veal Birds—Use thin veal steaks. Cut in pieces equivalent to four inches square. Sprinkle with pepper and salt. Fill with dressing, roll up together and hold in place with toothpicks. Place in roasting pan. Cover bottom of roaster with water and cover with lid. Bake in a moderate oven until tender. Baste often.

Dressing—Two cups dry bread crumbs, two tablespoons butter (melted), one teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon onion salt, one teaspoon celery salt. Moisten with boiling water.

This affords a use for stale bread and is a change from other cuts of meat.

Combination Salad—Wash lettuce and lay on ice to become crisp. Arrange on individual salad plates and place sliced tomatoes and cucumbers. When ready to serve pour dressing over.

Dressing—Two-thirds cup mayonnaise, one-quarter cup weak vinegar, three tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon salt. Stir well together.

Corn Bread—One pint of sour milk, one pint sweet milk, one teaspoon of sour cream, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon salt, one cup molasses, one quart cornmeal, one cup of white flour. Mix all together, stir one-half hour and bake three hours with a slow fire.

Simple Salad Dressing—It requires no cooking and can be used as soon as made, but thickens if allowed to stand a little while. Keeps indefinitely.

One (sweetened) condensed milk, one egg, one teacup vinegar, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon mustard; stir all together until smooth.

TASTY DESSERTS.
Peach Bavarian Cream—Dissolve one package loganberry jiffy jelly in one pint boiling water. When nearly congealed beat with a Dover egg beater until like whipped cream. Stir in one-quarter cup thick cream and place in ice box until ready to serve. Fold in sliced peaches just before serving.

This is a most attractive dessert, light after a heavy meal and easily prepared.

Marble Creme Dainty—Take one-half envelope of gelatin, soak in one-half cup of cold water for five minutes. Take one cup of sugar, put in pan, add one-half cup water, let it boil for a few minutes; pour boiling hot over gelatin; stir with a spoon until dissolved; let stand to cool, but do not chill.

Whisk whites of four eggs very light in a separate bowl. Add gelatin to eggs, a few spoonfuls at a time, beating constantly, adding a few drops of vanilla and a few grains of salt. Divide quickly into three parts.

To the first part add a rounding tablespoon of peanut butter.

Second part, two teaspoons of melted chocolate or cocoa.

Third part, leave plain or color pink with vegetable color; if liked chopped nuts or cherries may be added to the white.

DINNER AT THE BLACKSTONE

Chapter 105
In spite of my objections Tony insisted upon having dinner at the Blackstone.

"I am not dressed for such a place," I told him as a last plea. I really hated the thought of looking out of place and so perhaps embarrassing him.

"I haven't seen anyone there who looks any better nor half as well to me and I have been there two weeks. I guess Zena you have forgotten what a stunning girl you are. Haven't you a mirror in your room?"

"Of course, silly!"

"I was going to ask if I might send one if you hadn't! I'd advise you to look into one occasionally. It will save you the trouble of apologizing for your looks."

"I see you haven't changed if I have!" I retorted just as we drew up to the brightly lighted entrance of the Blackstone.

Tony piloted me to the dining room whispered to the head waiter, who looked serious for a moment and then a something passed unobtrusively from Tony's pocket to his hand he obsequiously led us to one of the best tables in the room. He removed the "Reserved" sign with a flourish.

"Same old trick!" I said laughing. "They all do it. Part of the business. Now aren't you glad you came? The orchestra had commenced to play."

"Indeed I am! It is lovely."

"That's the way to talk! Now listen to the music while I order. Be careful tho! They are looking at you already!"

I did look about, altho I saw nothing of the stares to which Tony had referred. Instead I saw fine looking men, and beautifully dressed women chatting, laughing, all enjoying themselves. I listened to the music, and decided I too, would forget and enjoy, without spoiling my own and Tony's pleasure by giving way to the feeling that I was doing something that I might regret I had felt that way all the way down in the taxi—that I might regret going out with Tony.

Tony ordered a delicious dinner—all the things I liked and had not eaten for so long. He declared he must buy a bottle of wine to celebrate altho he remembered I never touched it—Dad thought me too young—and when I said I never had taken any, went without himself rather than have anything I couldn't enjoy. His unselfishness touched me because I knew that Tony Deland and men like him consider a bottle of wine almost a necessary adjunct to the dinner he ordered.

It was good to sit opposite him and listen to the chatter of the old crowd of the boys and girls I knew so well. He said Jack Pryor was paying attention to Edith Wren, but he didn't think anything would come of it.

"Old Jack was crazy about you, Zena! I always thought you'd end by marrying him."

"No Tony, I don't think I ever had any real idea I would marry Jack."

"No Tony, I don't think I ever had any real idea I would marry Jack."

I liked him, liked to be with him. But I have always felt that liking was not enough—that a girl must really care very much to marry a man.

"I know Zena, but you—things changed so—I know Jack said you once after—he told me. Perhaps I shouldn't give him away. But he was pretty well knocked out when you went way and left no word for him."

I made no reply and Tony was soon laughing and chatting in his old inimitable way again. We lingered over our desert and coffee until the dining room was nearly empty. Then we went out and sat in the lobby for half an hour longer and listened to the music.

"It is 11 o'clock!" I exclaimed aghast. "I must get home, Tony. I have to get up very early you know."

"Danged shame too!" But he rose immediately and took me home. On the way I made him promise to say nothing of having seen me to any one.

"I have to lead my own life—a very different one, Tony, and I prefer to be lost to all that belonged to the old life—even my friends. I am a working girl. Probably I always shall be. I went with you tonight and have enjoyed it hugely. But such pleasures are not for me. They do not fit in with the life I have mapped out for myself."

He promised me at once altho he said he thought me foolish.

"Your friends love you for yourself, Zena, not for anything else."

Heat Your Whole House— Not Part Of It

WHY bother with stoves and fireplaces when one heater in the basement will do so much more and so much better work? It takes only a few hours to install the Estate System; no fuss or muss; only one hole to cut.
